CONTRACTOR OPPORTUNITIES ARE AVAILABLE FOR EXECUTIVE COACHES

Peak Performance Group, Inc. (PPG) is looking for experienced executive coaches. Through executive coaching, PPG brings to our clients capabilities, tools and models for assessing effectiveness and identifying areas for improvement, designing plans and facilitating learning and change. PPG brings a distinctive ability to identify root cause at the organizational as well as individual level. Our coaches have exceptional knowledge, expertise and advanced degrees in their respective fields, which include business, organization development, team development, and organizational psychology. They have a variety of experience in leadership roles within organizations.

We provide coaching for:

- Successful Integration: For newly hired executives, often started during executive search
- Expanded Responsibilities: Frequently a part of succession planning
- Career Change: Often within the same company
- High Potentials: In preparation for future opportunities
- Increased Effectiveness: Particularly at times of change for the business or individual

Individuals interested in coaching for PPG's clients should have extensive experience in any of the following areas:

- Executive team leadership
- Change management
- Organizational psychology
- Strategic planning

PPG will train executive coaches in our unique model for coaching.

Qualifications required include:

- Experience in providing executive coaching
- Graduate degree, PhD desired
- Corporate experience, at a senior leadership level
